DIYA HOLDINGS LLC

DIYA HOLDINGS LLC was established in 2018 in Orange County, California, USA, having brought under its umbrellas a group of companies involved in over three decades in the fields of international trading, manufacturing, sourcing and product development.

DIYA has been engaging in import and export of commodities in food such as rice, beef, chicken, pork, sugar, soybean, fish, and beverages such as coffee, energy drinks and other drinks. Other commodities handled are metals and cement.

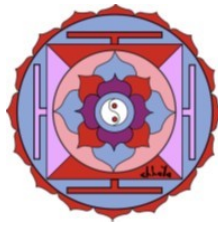

DIYA is also active in trading of different types of fuel, supplying various government and private establishments with regular supply. These include EN590, Jet A-1, LNG, and Petroleum Coke. DIYA has access to a global network of refineries and stations.

In the year 2023, DIYA has also been assisting several governmental-level projects such as building EV assembly facilities, as well as supplying medical equipment and supplies.

Sam Samtani, as the Chief Business Officer handling the day-to-day operations of the DIYA group, brings almost 40 years of first-hand experience and expertise in top-class international business. Having consulted with many Fortune 100 companies across the globe, Sam has developed a network of manufacturers and resources globally for top-quality products.

DIYA offers not just traditional sourcing and product development services, but also shares its expertise in raw materials supply, design, packaging, QC analysis, logistics, banking, warehousing, and distribution. This experience and know-how allow DIYA to function as an One-Stop partner to cater to any customer's and supplier's requirements to achieve high-standard of results all around.

MANUFACTURING

Having developed a network of manufacturing facilities that span almost the entire globe, Diya is able to pinpoint the most ideal facility most suited to your product. Our manufacturing partners are compliant with the highest industrial and product safety standards. We share the same priorities and work ethics in ensuring that our clients are delivered top-quality products at all times.

DESIGN

Diya will work with you from the first step of transforming your product concept into design. This process will help you to envision how your product may look when it is manufactured. At this stage, we can assist you through various design phases, and even 3D printing, to give your concept its first look.

LOGISTICS

Diya's expertise also includes identifying the best logistics solutions for your product. We will work with you to suggest the most optimal and economical ways for transporting your products from the country of origin to the destination, whether by ocean, air, or truck. We will also arrange any fulfillment requirements, such as drop-shipping and cross-dock freights, and any other logistic needs depending on your project.
